

Appendix A2 – Professional Simulation (Legal)

Task

The ability to collect detailed client information about a potential legal matter is critical to becoming an effective legal practitioner. In this activity, you are a law clerk at Chen and Associates and have been asked to conduct an intake consultation.

Case Scenario

Sarah Matthews is a 58-year-old seeking help relating to a dispute over her late husband's literary estate. She has come to Chen and Associates seeking legal advice about this matter.

Your task:

Task 1 - Complete an initial probate interview.

Conduct an initial intake interview with Sarah. Your goal is to collect all legally relevant information so that you can brief your supervising solicitor.

Sarah is waiting for you online.

Task 2 - Present to a supervising solicitor.

After completing your interview with Sarah, present your findings to Margaret Chen, your supervising solicitor. Your briefing should clearly summarise the relevant facts, identify uncertainties, flag potential probate issues, and suggest appropriate next steps.

Margaret is unavailable for a call and can only respond by messaging.
